

CONSERVING NATURE IN SOUTHWESTERN
PRINCE COUNTY
Conservation Options for Landowners and Neighbours

ISLAND NATURE TRUST

ABOUT US

Island Nature Trust is a not-for-profit, non-government organization that has been dedicated to protecting Natural Areas in Prince Edward Island since 1979.

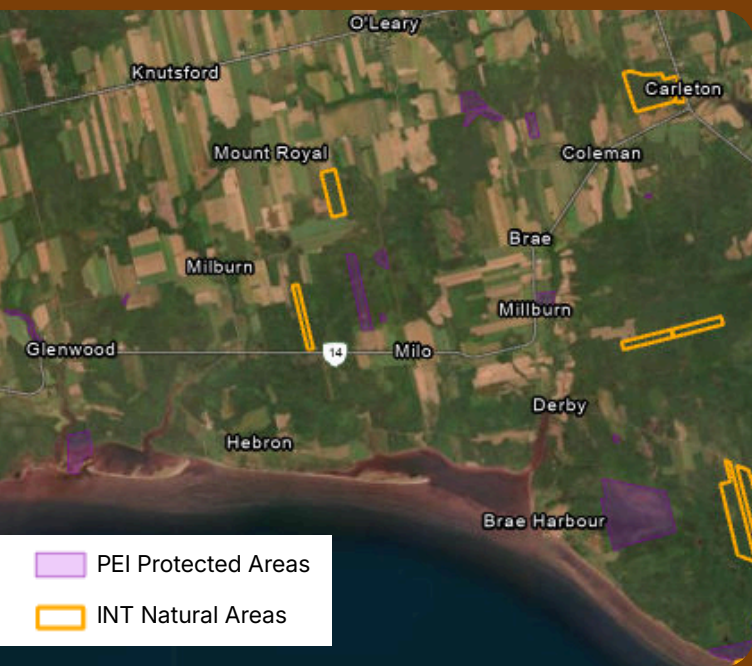

WHAT DO WE DO

Island Nature Trust protects PEI's natural landscapes for the benefit of all Islanders. This is accomplished by acquiring and stewarding natural areas, promoting private land protection, and monitoring for species at risk.

WORKING TOGETHER

Island Nature Trust is looking to connect with landowners and conservationists interested in working together to protect the natural landscapes of Southwestern Prince County. This region of Prince Edward Island is known for its rich forested wetlands, which are dominated by Eastern White Cedar, Red Maple, and White Ash. Conserving these features helps support species at risk.

LANDOWNER BENEFITS

Depending on the conservation method, land protection can offer various benefits, including partial relief from property taxes on protected land, capital gains tax relief for qualifying land donations and partial sales, exemptions from land holding limits, and perpetual protection from development and resource exploitation.

CONSERVATION PRIORITIES

LOCATION & CONNECTIVITY

Protecting land around existing natural areas such as the Milburn Woodlands Natural Area and the Mount Royal Natural Area will support habitat for all forms of wildlife, thus, improving:

BIODIVERSITY & ECOSYSTEM HEALTH

This region is characterized by various forested and wetland ecosystems such as Eastern White Cedar swamps. These areas are sensitive to disturbance and contain important habitat for:

SPECIES-AT-RISK

Canada Warbler, a federally at risk, migratory songbird as well as other species like Black Ash, a provincially rare tree that is typically found in wet conditions. Habitat loss is one of the largest threats to these species.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Scan the QR codes to learn more!

BECOME A GUARDIAN

Volunteer as a Conservation Guardian to help INT monitor Natural Areas in your community. Scan the QR code or reach out to to learn more.

PROTECT LAND

Do you own property with valuable wildlife features that you want to protect? If you're interested in stewarding, selling, donating, or bequeathing your land, scan the QR code or contact us using the information on the back to learn more.

ISLAND
NATURE TRUST

Scan me

-  P.O. Box 265
Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island
C1A 7K4
-  islandnaturetrust.ca
-  admin@islandnaturetrust.ca
-  (902) 892-7513

This project was undertaken with the financial support of:
Ce projet a été réalisé avec l'appui financier de :
Ula eluwasik wejiaq wjit suliewey apoqnmasuti wejiaq:

Environnement and Climate Change Canada

Environnement et
Changement climatique Canada

